DAYLIGHT PLAN TO BE UNIFORM, CITIES DECIDE

Prepare Proposal To Be Submitted To Various Areas

COUNCIL ACTION WILL BE SOUGHT

Civic Representatives Discuss Program In Youngstown

Representatives of civic groups in several cities of the Mahoning valley and surrounding meeting in Youngstown Thursday noon, decided to have a uniform proposal for daylight saving time prepared for submission to these

This decision followed a general discussion of daylight saving in which pros and cons were advanced. It was the impression of this group that confusion would result unless all the cities in this territory agreed to change the clocks to obtain an extra hour of during the summer months. For that reason it was proposed to submit a plan to each community for consideration and possible legislation by city ordinances to make the change official.

Representing the Salem Business bureau at this meeting was Ralph Hawley, who reported the sentiment of bureau members was that day-light saving should be universal throughout the territory, or not attempted of general acceptance could not be obtained. He was accompanied to Youngstown by T. E. Miller, president of the bureau. The meeting was arranged by the retail merchants division of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce. It was reported that Cleveland was not interested in daylight saving time. Several cities in Salem's trading area were not represented t the meeting.

One wouldn't go so far as to say that the Allies are trying to push Mussolini into the war—though stranger things have happened. They may even hope that he will reconsider his position and perhaps ultimately cast his lot with them. In any event it is a call for a show-down.

Indications are, however, that they are quite willing to take him on at any time.

It is my personal view, from study on the ground, that Mussolini has little affection for either the Allies or for Hitler. Italy has been uspicious of the Allies ever since the World war, charging that they didn't fulfill the territorial promises which brought the Italians into the war, after Mussolini himelf had made a successful cam-paign to persuade his country to morial building.

The Hospital

Development

ance of Hospital day May 12, this series of articles briefly tells of the development of hospital service and medicine from the early days until the present.)

MEDIEVAL HOSPITALS

Sparse records exist of hospital development between the sixth and ninth centuries. It is known, how-ever, that the influence of the Christian era persisted and that hospitals remained under the control of religion to and through the Middle Ages.

In this period surgery fell into disfavor since it was considered unchristian to cut into the body Then, too, the physical body was ignored in the effort to treat the

* Soul Gets Attention

The tortured soul was succored alike by priests, attendants and physicians who attempted, through love and faith, to elevate and discipline the character of the patient according to the teachings

In the tenth century "hospitia were founded, adjacent to monasteries, by religious orders. These infirmaries served food and provided shelter and rest to weary travelers. The famous Al-pine hospice, of St Bernard, founded in the year 962, still serves as a traveler's rest and sends its renowned dogs to rescue lost moun-

With the Crusades came disease and pestilence and therefore an in crease of hospitals, mostly found ed by religious order

The first hospital in England, St Johns, was built at York in 1084. The first one in Germany was founded at Berlin in 1070. It was called the Hospital of the Holy Ghost, a name used by scores of Like Temple Hospitals The style of architecture of this eriod followed that of temple hos-itals of an earlier date. The building had the shape of a cross and was supplied with stained glass windows which were more ornanental than useful. The only ventilation provided came through the cupola in the ceiling. Limited heat came from open charcoal braziers. Mass was said each morning in the east wing.

The Crusade period was followed which little progress was made ther in hospitals or medicine. With the late 14th century came the renaissance of learning and as welf a renaissance in hospital building and medical progress The practice of surgery improved under "long robe surgeons" who were educated in "the universities. The "short robe surgeons" or bar-bers, were usually limited to the shaving or leeching of patients. Ecclesiastics were no longer per-mitted to perform surgical opera-

New Plant Makes Industry Boom In British Columbia

VANCOUVER, B. C.—The largest plywood plant of its kind in the British empire and the second largest in the world has been completed here. It is the mill of British Co-lumbia Plywoods, Ltd, situated on the Fraser river between Vancouver and New Westminster.

Representing an investment of nearly $1,000,000, and employing 500 men, the plant is one of the main reasons why plywood manufacturing has become a major factor in British Columbia's lumber industry. More than 80,000,000 square feet of plywood can be produced at the

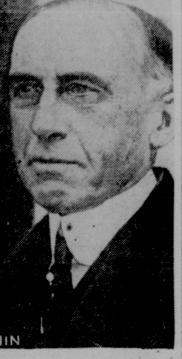

A comparatively recent development of the lumber industry, plywood manufacturing on Canada's west coast is growing rapidly. Demand for the product having in-creased steadily in past years. With European sources of supplies cut off, the British market is now more than ever open to British Columbia manufacturers.

Easier to Ship

Added to this is the fact that plywood can be easily shipped, oc-cupying a much smaller space than an equivalent amount of rough lumber. With shipping space at a premium owing to the war, this is an important factor in British demand for plywood.

Rapidly growing in popularity, plywood is being used for numerous new purposes, including furniture, small boats, display signs, truck by lumber experts here, who say that plywood manufacture fits used. While

SALEM RELAYS ATTRACT FIELD OF 31 TEAMS

Defending Champion Tops List Of Entries In Night Track Meet Here Saturday

Preliminaries To Be Run In Afternoon, Finals At Night Under Reilly Stadium Lights; Ohio State Stars To Appear

Stars of the cinderpath from 31 Ohio and western Pennsylvania schools will send spiked shoes flashing over Reilly tadium's running track tomorrow in the 11th renewal of the annual Salem Night Relays.

Providing the weather is favorable, several records are expected to be shattered by a brilliant array of outstanding scholastic athletes, among them two state champions.

Cold weather may put a damper on the meet, although the weatherman's promise for Saturday is "partly cloudy and slightly warmer".

Seven Other Three-Year-Olds Go to Post With Bimelich

By GAYLE TALBOT

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3-Bimelech will go to the post tomorrow for the 66th running of the Kentucky Derby and it looks as if about seven other horses will go at least that far wi h him.

Whether any of the others stay with him-or even hear him-for the rest of the whirl around the Churchill Downs track remains to hands down, and it would not be truthful to state that the air of New York Louisville is charged with excitement. The thousands of visitors Pittsburgh who are churning about the hotel lobbies are pretty well charged, St. Lou certainly, but not with excitement. Boston Unpleasant Weather

It is much as it was a year ago when Johnstown was so obviously the class of the field. Everybody is preparing to go ou, and warble 'My Old Kentucky Home' and generally get very sentimental, but nobody seems to think it will be much of a horse race.

The weather is very unpleasant—cold and rainy—and gives promise of ge ting worse before it improves Tomorrow's crowd, as a sensible result, may not be a record one.

The price that Bimelech will pay —providing, of course, that the Bradley thoroughbred wins on schedule-likely will be the legal minimum in this state, which is 10 cents on the dollar. That is, the man who buys a $2.00 ticket on the 'big hoss" is sure of getting back $2.20, providing he wins. And don't forget, this goes, too, for place and show bets. This can be financially painful to the management.

Col. E. R. Bradley, who owns the super-favorite, hasn't been in such good health down at Lexington. Neverthless, there is a report that he intends to defy his physicians and come up for the race, determined to watch Bimelech be his fifth derby winner.

May Surprise

A scattered few expressed the opinion that Mioland, the west coast horse, might spring a sur-Bimelech down the stretch. Some are going to take a chance

This sning little bungalow is practically new. It is located about 5 miles north of town on hard road. Has 6 rooms with electricity furnace, well water, electric pump. Exceptionally fine basement, all cemented. Includes about 10 acres of ground, good single garage also new. Built only one year, this home is well constructed throughout. In fact, it is such an attractive little dwelling that we don't see how the owner can afford to sell it at such a low price. He has a thorized us to offer it at only $3,000.00 for a quick sale and we are in business to carry out the wishes of our client. If you are interested, act at once, for THIS HOME SOON WILL BE IN THE HANDS OF A NEW OWNER!

Also 32 acres on a hard road in a nice neighborhood. Has a good 6-room house with good cellar. Electricity available. Nice large double garage. Corn crib and good, new, small barn. This is a nice place to live. Price only $3,200.00.
